Car shakes when i get to a certain speed

My daughters truck was stuck in some mud, so i decided to push it out with my 1996 chevy cavalier. Now when i get over 35-40 mph it starts shaking really bad in the front. What could it be and how much will it probably cost to fix?

It won't cost anything at all to fix. Get the mud out of the wheels (use a water hose).

That should take care of it.

:lol:

Take it to a tire shop.. the first thing they'll do is clean the mud out of the wheels.. we see that problem ALL the time after somebody has been stuck in the mud and it cakes up in the rims.
